

LIVING THE LIFE

BEAUTICONTROL®

Fannie Lewis

National Executive Director

The life I love...

"Because of BeautiControl, I have been able to help my grandchildren get college degrees," says Fannie Lewis proudly. This is only one of the ways BeautiControl has impacted Fannie and her family throughout the years.

In 1971, Fannie and her family sold their general store and service station so she could stay at home with her children. But after being home for several months, without the extra work of running the store, she decided that she needed something for herself. "I became bored," she says.

Fannie was soon introduced to BeautiControl, and she booked a party in her home. But Fannie didn't host a party looking for a life change. "I loved the products and thought I might like to do this to get my products at a discount," she says, "It didn't hurt that I could earn a little extra money for my personal enjoyment."

Fannie attended weekly BeautiControl meetings that were an hour away. She says it was those meetings that truly made a difference in her life by opening up the possibility of a new career. "It was the motivation and knowledge

BeautiControl is a job like nothing else. It's about helping others.

Nowhere else could I have been able to help my family while choosing my own hours to work.

I attained at these functions that assured me BeautiControl was a career to pursue!"

Since joining BeautiControl, Fannie's income has increased significantly, and while the money is great, her greatest success has been helping other women create the life they love. "BeautiControl is a job like nothing else. It's about helping others. Nowhere else could I have been able to help my family while choosing my own hours to work," Fannie says. "I have been blessed with a deep and committed team of Consultants. I hold much respect for them and want them to be even more successful than myself."

When Fannie isn't out sharing the BeautiControl opportunity, "making others happy," you can find her driving a new car, traveling the world or spending time with her family... all compliments of BeautiControl, she says.

"When I think of the exciting trips and rewards I have earned, all of the friendships I have made, plus the new automobiles I've enjoyed through the years, it's like a dream come true."

Fannie says BeautiControl has a special place in her heart and always will. "I would not want to think about my life without BeautiControl. It has been a precious gift from God. Even though I've spent many years with BeautiControl, I feel young within, and I will always be a part of this great company."
